It appears that Senator Douglas has printed a pamphlet edition of Mr. Lincoln's Cincinnati speech, in which he (Douglas) was conclusively shown to be an enemy to freedom, and that it is being extensively franked to the South by John Logan, of "dirty work" notoriety. It has been asserted within my hearing least one hundred times, that Sherman signe the Helper hook, which recommended servi insurrection, and refused to explain or disarro. This charge has become the staple of all the speeches made by the fire eaters. All the excuses offered by the Disunionists for their actions course have been based on Sherman' efusal to disavow Helper's pamphlet. It has furnished them nearly all their partize it has been the pretext for most of the grossl offensive invectives flung at the Republicans The appeals to the South Americans to fo the fire-enters have been based on this echised. On two occasions Sherman said all that an honorable man could under the circum-stances. And the more decent of the Disunionists admitted that the assault upon him was being carried to unjustifiable extremes. As often as three times a week Missouri Clark taskes a maudlin speech on the subject of his resolution. He punishes the King's English, commits assault and battery on Murray's Grammar, and statters, stammers, and hammers on the everlasting Helper book. He had his peri-odical fit last Friday. He began by saying that he had given Mr. Sherman two opportu make an explanation of his connection with the clined to exonerate himself from the respon-

Mr. Saerman promptly arose, and in a fifteen minutes' speech that electrified the House, denied that an opportunity had ever been given him to explain his connection with Helper's book. He asked Mr. Clark whether he was willing now to withdraw his resolution for the purpose of enabling him to make his statement. He denied that an opportunity had ever been given him for an explanation. He charged that the resolution had been introduced in its that the resolution had been introduced in its present offensire, insulting shape for the ex-press purpose of preventing an explanation or disarural. It was part of a deliberate design to menace and insult him and his political aswith crimes which, if true, would render him unworthy of a seat in Congress. But these in-vectives had been hurled at him to subserve a

Having said this much, I cannot refrain from control regions to be facts; the ideas expressed at the meeting by several gentlemen.

Mr. Walter, for maisses, desires manufactories, trade, conducere and industry of every kind, all at the same time.

I will heaves Mr. Was counsier whether it would not be more expedient to convert these prairies (which have been upproductive for many perfect worthless to their owners and detrimental to the state of he dith in the city, representing besides a capital of from seven to nice millions of dollars, into cash, and to build up manufactories from the present state?

Gen. Serif believes in the success of the plan, only in the event shirthed State will take hold of it, and that as long as there is no demand for land, none can be sold, and all unpataral means gotten up to force it into market will look like speculation. The plan does not propose After making the above explanation, Mr. Sherman went on to say that he did not believe Clark wanted an axplanation, but to test the matter and put it forever at rest, he challenged him to withdraw it for a smorach. If that was done he was willing to define his opinion of the book, page by page—including the extracts that had been read by the Clark. But that "never will is that resolution is before the House in an improper and unparliamentary manner, and its adoption urged, as it is, by offensive argument, never will is explain a single word contained in those extracts." Realf, old Brown's Secretary, was before the Barper's Ferry Committee on Saturder, and the substance of his testimony is thus reported:

"He testified that Senator Wilsom wrote a letter to Dr. Howe, in 1857 or 1855, stating that he learned from Mr. Forbes that Brown was about to make a raid into some of the Southern States for the purpose of liberating alaves, and that he would use money furnished him by parties in Massachusetts for his Kansas work to add him in his new pruject; and that in his (Wilson's) opinion it was madness in Brown to attempt such a thing, and that he (Howe, must withdraw all means furnished or intended to be furnished him for services in Kansas, if they were to be misapplied in the manner indicated by Forbes.

He stated that Howe sent a copy of Wilson's letter to Broan, informing the latter that the arms and money which had been furnished him for the proyection of the settlers of Kansas, would be withdrawn in consequence of the evilations made by Forbes through Wilson; that Brown became crasade and abandoned his plan for a while, but some time subsequently pursued some pro-slavery men into Missouri and carried back with him several slaves.

Sensor Wilson was notified by Mason that Realf has alluded to himfin his testimony and notified him fo report of his knowledge of Brown. He will first be allowed to read what Realf has stated. B. R. Geo. W. Gare, Jon. 4th. series (nect on more favorable) uffers Nos. 5, 9 and 10 were made verbally orted in favor of Mr. Cook's first offer, basing heir decision upon the following points: their decision upon the following points:

1. Accessibility.—Considering distance of minor importance, as compared with means of coeveyance. The new Fair Grounds arebarely six miles from the new Post Office—fifteen minutes by steam or thirty minutes by horse. The Illinois Central, through Mr. Arthur, the Superintendent, have given promise of comeeting the grounds with their line, and hopes are optertained that the Ft. Wayne, from the West Side, and the Rock Island from the centre of the South Side, will lay at least temporary tracks or Joi st gravel, will the finest drives in the Union.

2. Natural Familities.—An abundance of pure water can be had at ten feet from the surface. A small portion of the north corner alone needs arificial drainage, and this can be done at a very slight expense. The track considered one of the best in the Union, though not properly a natural facility, may here be considered, as affording an excellent course for the exhibition of horses and cattle, &c., and offering facilities which could not be obtained within a year or two and at considerable expense elsewhere. There are no shade trees, but a few years and slight expense will remedy this.

3. Locality, with reference to the attractiveness of its surroundings. On this point it, is unnecessary to dilate. With Egandale adjoining, Oakenwald, Hyde Park, Cottage Grove, the Baptist University, and numberless eigent mansions and country seats in the immed at neighborhood it is all that could be desired.

4. Price.—The lamprovements which have been put upon the place within the past four years, at an extense of some $20,000, are all available for the uses of the Society and could not be rel-placed by us for less than $10,000. This would bring the price of the land to about $250 per

[From the Misseater Waccards.]
In response to the general feeling, that now is the tame to communes a great reform in our Collection Laws, Mr. Dimere has introduced the following bill: A BILL the rease. It was a superior which so many now gream, in the form of legal costs.

Our present collection laws are work a delusion to the houses creditor whe expects to get something by noting his debtor, that we had better make a clean sweep of the whole collecsomething by saving his debtor, that we had better matte elem werey of the whole collection was assen.

Merchants of the largestexperience and most extensive trade, endeur in the opinion that their beaman would be such sounder and more reliable, if the collection laws were sholinhed. Then they would not trust any one, unless they tree them to be housed—sow they treat many open the contingencies of the law, and it is well known that any raguish debtor, by employing tone their attention, can evade the payment of his debta.

After a twelve years's experience in bosiness in this Stale, if it our conviction that more debta are less their, if hour conviction that more debta are less their as well as the could pay, than from these who cannot. The restark is made: "What can you do! He has so covered up his property that you cannot get at it." Such men, of course, should not be trusted; but they will be, , o long as laws remain on the statute book, which seem to give the creditor a disappears when he tries the processed the law. The present collection laws thus become the rogues decoy, ky which he is assumatantly swinding one set after another. Hence, it is nettorious that men have lived in good strie, for a series of years, wille engaged in the legal processed decor and their devel.

We desire to cut off all credit to such ingressed request; makes their eighter work or suffer. And as we hopestly believe that the abolicer.

We desire to cut off all credit to such in-grained request; makes then eight move to and for. And as we housestly believe that the abeli-tion of collection time will be the only effective way to trach that large class of ramages, we earnessing favor Mr. Elmore's bill, and turther believe that, if once adopted, its practical work-legs will be each as to commend as adoption to our stater-biattes.

many paying mining fields for the first time. The business seems to have become settled, and the summal labor and gold product is not likely to vary materially for many years, although the field for increased profitable labor is believed to be very extensive.

The most encouraging feature, is the steadily increasing area of mining region discovered on the Pacific coast, such as the discoveries of what are believed valuable gold mines north and west of the Columbia river, in Gregon and Washington: the new gold and alliver mines in Nevada Territory, with strong indications of an extensive mining region, extending along the easiers along of the Seara Nevada Mountains, saralied to the gold mines of California on the western along of the State in which there has been the greatest increase, are wheat, wood, and fruit, the quality of each having hearily or more than doubled within the year. After thus stretching Plowman up, they began whipping him in a most cruel manner with hick ories about as large as a small sized heop pole, and continued until they heard horsemen coing down the road, when, removing the hand-kerchief from their victim's mouth, they fled, leaving him still suspended in the position in which they had tied him.

We learned from our informant that a gentleman who dreased Plowman's wounds, state that from the number of welts and brut earload his body and head, scarcely less than a hubored blows were inflicted upon him. Chicago, January 23d, 1860 and, to the number of nor-two, were assem-pled in the same room, engaged in embroid for. It was a spacious hall on the first floo of the principal building, and had four larg-windows, or rather glass doors, (for they opened to the floor,) giving entrance to a gar-den of some extent in front of the house NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF ccupation.

On this occasion the young ladies were all eater at the table in question, whence they ould readily see what passed in the garden; and, while engaged at their work, they had noticed Mademoiselle Sagee there, not fair from the house, gathering flowers, of which she was very fond. At the head of the table, the state of eated in an arm chair, (of green many informant says, she distinctly ects that it was,) sat another tead seated in an arm chair, (of green morocco, my informant says, she distinctly recollects that it was, sat snother teacher, in charge of the pupils. After a time this lady had occasion to leave the room, and the arm-chair was left vacant. It remained so, however, for a short time, only; for of a sudden there appeared seated in it the figure of Mademoiselle Sagee. The young ladies immediately looked into the garden, and there she still was, engaged as before only they remarked she moved very slowly and languidly, as a drowsy or exhausted person might. Again they looked at the arm-chair, and there she sat, silent, and without motion, but to the sight so palpably real that, had they not known that she appeared in the chair without having walked into the room, they would all have supposed that it was the lady herself. As it was, being quite certain that it was not a real person, and having become, to a certain extent, familiar with this strange phenomenon, two of the bollest approached and tried to touch the figure. They averred that they did feel a slight resistance, which they likened to that which a fabric of fine mustill carted, as before. At last it gradually disappeared; and then it was observed that Mafemoiselle Sagee resumed, with all he usual sativity, her task of sowe gathering Every one of the forty-two pupils saw the same than panning to look up, and perceiving the teacher's arm-shair to be vacant, she had thought to berself, "I wash abe had not goin away: these girls will be sure to be iding their time and getting into some mischief."

This phenomenon continued the whole time than Mademoiselle Sagee if there was anything perceived that she recollected this only: that happening to look up, and perceiving the teacher's arm-shair to be vacant, she had thought to berself, "I wash abe had not goin away: these girls will be sure to be iding their time and getting into some mischief."

This phenomenon continued the whole time than Mademoiselle Sagee resumed, under various modifications through to sure to be idi DISSOLUTION.—The Co Partbury ip heretolore existing between the understaged

Subsequently she set out for the interior of Russia, and Mademoiselle Guldenstubbe loss sight of her entirely.
That lady was not able to inform me whether the phenomenon had shown fiself during Mademoisella Sagee's infancy, or previous to her sixteenth year, nor whether, in the case of any of her family or of her ancestors, a similar peculiarity had appeared.

I had the above particulars from Mademoiselle de Guldenstubbe herself; and she kindly gave me permission to publish it, with every particular of name, place, and date. Had a ballot for Speaker been taken to day the result would have been about the same as formerly, no change having taken place sufficient to produce a result on either side. For several days a report has been circulated that some of the Sonth Americans will vote for Corwin, and thus force the Republicans to go for him. Another rumor is that Mesars. Briggs, Riggs, Acr on and Clark will vote for Mr. Plennington, and thus diotate terms to the stepublican. Neither of these projects will divert enough the friends of Mr. Sherman away from him to elect either Corwin or Pennington. Since Mr. lect either Corwin or Pennington. Washington, Jan. 25.—Callender, Cashier of the Hartford Bank, testified to-day, before the Sensite Brown raid Committee, that Brown deposited with him, and that he never paid money for Brown's cheek to any one but Brown, except is one case to Col. Forbes, to whom he gave $600, on Brown's cheek. This is a contradiction of Forbe's atstement in his letter, in which he stated that he never received money from Brown. Callender also testified that when Missourians fursided Kaness, he and other Connecticut men advised Brown to go there, and he gave him a sharpe's rife and told him to use it. Callender was informed that the Committee did not care about such testimony.

—Mr. Chas Bisir, of Collinsville, Conn., tes filed that he made Brown's pites, and that Brown paid him for them himself, and he knew no other parties concerned with Brown is the matter. Mr. Blair is a Democraf, and made the contracts as he would with any other person, not knowing for what purpose the weapons would be employed.
